1: What is SEND?

A pupil who has special educational needs or disabilities (SEND) may find it much harder to learn or take part in activities which other pupils of the same age are able to do. Pupils with SEND may need extra help to access the curriculum. Pupils with SEND fall into one or more of the four main areas of SEND.

SEND Support

A pupil with SEND will be recorded in one of two categories:

SCHOOL SUPPORT: Staff are made aware and deliver Quality First teaching which is differentiated appropriately. Parents / carers of the pupil will be invited to meet the Senco to discuss targets and additional support that is put in place.

Statement / EHCP: Pupils who have more complex needs have a Statement of Educational Needs or, from September 2014, an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). These documents set out a description of the pupil's needs and what should be done, by education, health and social care professionals, to meet those needs, Parents / carers are invited to an annual review in addition to review progress and recommend any changes that need to be made to the original statement / EHCP.

Communication and Interaction: Speech, Language and Communication Needs (SLCN), Autism (ASD)

Cognition and Learning: Specific Learning Difficulty (SPLD), Moderate Learning Difficulty (MLD), Severe Learning Difficulty (SLD), Profound and Multiple Learning Difficulty (PMLD)

Physical and Sensory: Visual Impairment (VI), Hearing Impairment (HI), Multi-Sensory Impairment (MSI), Physical Difficulty (PD)

Behavioural, Emotional and Social: Anxiety, Depression

As part of Gusford's inclusive approach for all pupils we provide support at times when individual pupils may be experiencing difficulties with school. We prepare individual plans for pupils to ensure their educational and emotional needs are met in an appropriate way. We offer support to pupils and families through the SPSF (Suffolk Pupil Support Framework) programme. During the school day we have a space, The Pit Stop, which pupils can access to have time to calm down and talk to any one of the adults. Each afternoon Mrs Shanks and Mr Bolton work with pupils in the Passport Group which is an alternative provision accessible to those pupils who require a more personalised way of learning. We work closely with the SEND and FET teams and we regularly meet to ensure we are providing appropriate support from each department to facilitate best possible outcomes for all pupils.

4: How Special needs are identified

Stage One: We collect information from a range of sources:

- Parents
- Staff
- Pupil
- Results of class observations
- Use of school data; identify pupils who have made limited or no progress
- Previous settings

Stage Two: We make further investigations and give advice:

- The Senco meets parents to discuss concerns and share information.
- The Senco or a member of the SEN team conducts specific assessments to identify strengths and areas of difficulty for the child.
- The Senco provides advice and guidance to staff and parents about how best to support the pupil. The impact of suggested strategies is monitored closely.

Stage Three: If we decide, based on all the information gathered, that your child has a special need, we do the following:

- A pupil profile is created, with the child and IEP targets are set.
- Additional support is put in place.
- Targets are reviewed and shared with parents on a termly basis
- Outside agency referrals may be made in some cases.
- Progress the child makes against their targets is monitored closely and additional support is changed if necessary.
- An Education and Healthcare needs assessment referral (EHCP) is made if it is decided that the school is unable to meet the needs of the child

6: Outcomes for pupils with special needs and/or disabilities

We carefully track and monitor the progress of our SEND pupils using a range of measures. Alongside progress which is measured by looking at how many steps a child progresses against curriculum objectives, we also measure progress in terms of a child's reading and spelling age and the % of IEP targets they achieve at each IEP review.

Pupils with social, emotional or behavioural needs have support plans in place which identify key targets each child is working towards. In some cases, pupils with behavioural difficulties receive support from external agencies such as the Behaviour Support Service. Targets are set for these pupils and progress made is monitored very closely. Adjustments are made to the additional support where appropriate.

The Senco uses teacher assessments, school data, written reports from external agencies, annual reviews, SEN assessment results to make judgements about each child's attainment and progress.

Progress data (academic year 2015-16 – Sep – end of May) (SEND pupils)

	% of pupils making expected or better than expected progress – Reading (3 steps or more)	% of pupils making expected or better than expected progress – Writing (3 steps or more)	% of pupils making expected or better than expected progress – Maths (3 steps or more)

These pupil profiles have replaced the old style pupil IEPs. These documents include key information about the pupil's strengths and weaknesses and give guidance to all staff about effective ways to support the child. They also include specific targets for the pupil to work on, which are reviewed on a termly basis.

8: Evaluating Provision

9: Transition: Preparing for the next step

All pupils at Gusford are helped to prepare for the next step in their learning, whether they are moving from Key Stage One to two, moving within a phase, starting Gusford for the first time or moving onto high school.

Pupils with SEND may need support that is additional to the support received by their peers. SEND pupils who are deemed to be particularly vulnerable are included in small group work, on a weekly basis for 6 weeks prior to transition. Pupils are involved in a range of activities to help prepare them moving to their new class or school. In these cases, transition booklets are made which include photographs and information about new classes and staff. These booklets are sent home prior to the summer holiday.

Vulnerable SEND pupils who are moving to high school, make additional visits to the receiving school so that they can take photographs, meet staff and have more opportunities to familiarise themselves with their new environment. When a pupil with SEND starts Gusford, the Senco and receiving class teacher make visits to pre-school settings. A transition meeting takes place with parents and professionals. Additional visits are then organised. A Transition booklet is also provided for the pupil.

When a child with SEND joins Gusford mid-year....

Information is gathered from professionals working with the child

The pupil visits the school with parents / carers and meets the Senco

Senco contacts the previous school to discuss needs and the support

Senco contacts the previous school to discuss needs and the support required

Senco may visit previous schools where appropriate

12: Accessibility

Gusford school consists of one building which can be accessed by a wheelchair. The building is single storey and has an accessible toilet containing hoists that can be used for pupils with significant physical difficulties.

Every effort is made to ensure that all pupils, whatever their additional needs, have access to a broad and balanced curriculum. This means that we do everything we can to ensure that the appropriate support is in place so that our SEND pupils are able to enjoy all lessons and play an active role in all aspects of school life.

For those pupils who require additional support, we make special arrangements to ensure that these pupils can access end of Key Stage tests. For more information about access arrangements, please contact the Senco on 01473 682148.
